LOCAL CONNECTION
GLOBAL COHESION

For a confidential initial consultation without obligation, contact any Kreston International member, who will be pleased to listen to your requirements, and explain how the members can be of service, both locally and internationally.

Alternatively, contact the International Secretary for more details and the location of your nearest Kreston member office.

USING THIS DIRECTORY

Dialling

Telephone numbers are shown in the standard international format. For example, the International Office number is as follows:

a        b        c
+44 (0)1245 449266

where: + represents the outward international dialling code. This varies between countries. Please check locally.

(a) is the country code. This remains the same for each country regardless of the country from which the caller is dialling.

(b) is the city code. The zero or other number shown in the brackets, i.e. (0), is normally omitted when dialling from outside the country. However, if dialling within the country, it may be required.

(c) is the telephone number. This is typically the only part of the number, which is required when dialling locally.

Mailing Address

Please note that the street address and telephone number must be used when sending documents or parcels by courier or overnight delivery.

Time differences

This directory shows world time based on Greenwich Mean Time (GMT). Local time is shown as hours earlier (-) or later (+) than GMT.

Example:

London (GMT) 12:00pm
Tokyo (GMT +9hrs) 9:00pm
New York (GMT -5hrs) 7:00am

To calculate the Tokyo time from New York add 14 hours to the local time.

The change in hours due to summer time adjustments are not detailed.
